RFA 15-05: Funding Opportunity for Bridges to Stem Cell Research and Therapy Awards (Bridges 2.0)

The mission of California Institute for Regenerative Medicine (CIRM) is to accelerate stem cell therapies to patients with unmet medical needs.

The objective of the Bridges to Stem Cell Research and Therapy RFA (Bridges 2.0) is to enable California academic institutions to create training programs that will significantly enhance the technical skills, knowledge, and experience of a diverse cohort of undergraduate and Master's level trainees in the development of stem cell based therapies. Through coursework, lab internships, educational enhancement activities, and, importantly, engagement with patients, CIRM hopes to foster a commitment among trainees to the goal of accelerating the delivery of stem cell based therapies to patients. Additionally, CIRM strives through this program to broaden the participation in stem cell science of individuals representing the diversity of California's population.
