Agenda Item # 5: Chairman's Report.

Chairman Klein spoke briefly about the importance of recognizing our partnership with the state legislature in this enterprise and local governments. He let everyone know we that during the meeting the next morning, Assembly Speaker Fabian Nunez and Los Angeles Mayor Villaraigosa would join us to show their ongoing support for the CIRM and its efforts.

Mr. Klein reminded ICOC members and let the public know staff had gone through extensive conflicts of interest identification procedures and that, as was done at the February 2007 ICOC meeting, there would be an announcement of any conflicts before consideration of any of the Comprehensive Grant applications, and before consideration of the SEED Grant applications carried over to this meeting from the last one. He provided detail on the difference between an actual conflict and a self-elected abstention by an ICOC member wanting to avoid even the appearance of a conflict when no disqualifying conflict exists.

Chairman Klein then provided background information on the issues around OMB circulars A21 and 110, which create limitations on access to equipment and materials purchased or created with federal funds. The Legislative subcommittee, and a future meeting, will discuss working with institutions around California to develop a unified approach to these matters for all California institutions.

Agenda Item # 6: President's Report.

President Hall highlighted the recent announcement that Yamanaka, one of the leading stem cell researchers in Japan, will be joining the Gladstone Institutes, which is a coup for the Gladstone and for California to have a scientist of this stature coming to join the effort here.

In an update on CIRM personnel, Dr. Hall updated the ICOC on the successful recruitment of Tamar Pachter as General Counsel, the hiring of Dennis Butler as Technology Officer to manage day-to-day IT, and the recent hire of Douglas Guillen as Office Manager.

Dr. Hall reported on status of the Shared Facilities RFA, including that the CIRM had received 22 applications in response to this RFA.

Providing details on the status of two different audits, Dr. Hall reminded the ICOC that by state law, the CIRM must have an annual financial audit, and that the one for the fiscal year ending June 30th 2006 had been completed and would be reported on directly to the ICOC at the next meeting. With regard to the Performance Audit done by the Bureau of State Audits, Dr. Hall updated the ICOC on the audit report released on February 27th, with 12 recommendations, to which the CIRM made a written response. He informed the ICOC that we are to respond on progress with respect to the BSA's recommendations 60 days after the release of their report, six months after and one year after. Each ICOC member received a copy of the published report, and as with all BSA audits, it is available to the public on the Web.

Dr. Hall updated the ICOC on recent work by Geoff Lomax, officer for the Medical and Ethical Standards Working Group, organizing two regional workshops, one in Northern California and one in Southern California, for the purpose of discussing and clarifying our regulations and to get feedback from the institutions required to follow the regulations.

Agenda Item # 11: Consideration of Grants Review Working Group's recommendations regarding Comprehensive Grant applications.

Mr. Sheehy provided an overview of the Working Group's task and recommendations with regard to the Comprehensive Grant applications. He informed the ICOC that the Working Group reviewed 70 applications, working in tandem with 22 outside experts who dialed in to the meeting for discussion of specific applications. They were working with an $80 million pool of funding.

The Working Group placed the applications into 3 tiers, by way of first scoring them and then conducting a programmatic review. The Working Group recommended that the ICOC fund the applications in Tier One. There were 25 in Tier One based on scientific scoring, and 4 more were brought into Tier One during the programmatic review, for a total of 29 grants presented to the ICOC in Tier One and a funding total of $74.6 million.

After funding Tier One, the Working Group recommended that the ICOC take another look at the SEED Grant applications before looking at the Tier Two Comprehensive Grant applications. They felt the overall quality level of the SEED grant was high enough to justify funding more of them before funding more Comprehensive grants at this time.

Dr. Hall and Chairman Klein provided some information as well, including the score distribution and the clarification that the ICOC has the ability to cut off funding wherever they see fit, based on the best science, and to move any money "left over" into another set of RFAs if appropriate.

Lori Hoffman provided details on funds available for Comprehensive Grant funding to taking into account the amount of funds awarded in Training Grants and SEED Grants and given no additional funds coming in the door -- by way of the anticipated bond sales or otherwise.
